Networking—a friend looking for an [executive] role in [manufacturing]

E-mail body

Hello all,

A friend of mine—a senior [manufacturing finance executive] in the [Dallas] area—is looking for a new opportunity so I'm reaching out to you, trusted members of my network, on [her] behalf.

[She] has spent her entire career in [finance], most of [her] time being in the [manufacturing] industry. She has extensive [M&A] experience and has played a vital role in the [integration and change management associated with M&A activity]. She's also [managed companies through rapid growth—one company she was with grew from $100M to $600M in revenue in less than two years through M&A and organic growth]. Not to mention ... if I may say so myself ... [she]'s a great person, a great manager and would be a valuable addition to any organization.

If you're aware of any opportunities where you think [she] might fit, please let me know so I can connect you.

Thanks much for your time and consideration.

Best,

[Jane Doe]
